TIME OF THE SCHOOL YEAR—TEACHERS' CERTIFICATE CATES.

ALBANY, June 14.—Superintendent Ruggles, of the Department of Public Instruction, in answer to letters of inquiry, has issued a circular stating that the act in relation to the time of the school year has no force whatever during 1883. The close of the current school year will be, as heretofore, on September 1st. The opening of the next year will be at the usual time in October, and the reports of commissioners and trustees will be required to be made at the same time they have heretofore been made. The school year will begin October 1, 1883, and end on August 20, 1884. The superintendent has also issued the following circular addressed to school commissioners and city superintendents:

In pursuance of the Law of 1875, I have ordered that examinations of applicants for State Certificates be held at the High School buildings in Albany, Binghamton, Rochester and Syracuse, and at the rooms of the Board of Education, New-York City, beginning on Wednesday, July 11, 1883, at 2 p. m. Such of the candidates as give satisfactory evidence of their learning, ability and good character, will receive certificates qualifying them to teach in any of the public schools of the State. Candidates must be present at the beginning of the examination, produce testimony of good character, and must have had at least two years' experience as teachers. They must pass thorough examination in the following named branches: Reading, spelling, writing, grammar and analysis, composition, geography, history of American history, arithmetic, elementary algebra, and plane geometry. In place of geometry, can didates may offer themselves. If they choose, for examination in Latin, as far as three books of Censor. They will also be expected to have a reasonable knowledge of book-keeping, rhetoric, the natural sciences, linear and perspective drawing, general history, general geography, and the principles of agriculture, and of the school law. The examinations will be open to candidates living in any part of the State, and to such residents of this State as declare it to be their intention to teach in this State.

BROOKLYN POLICE AND LIQUOR SELLERS.

In a conference with some temperance advocates Police and Excise Commissioner Jourdan, of Brooklyn, said yesterday that the temperance people did not co-operate with the police in their efforts to convict violators of the excise law. The police would arrest from half a dozen to two dozen liquor sellers, and taken to the courts and there they would demand a jury trial and would be acquitted. The temperance people would not stand in prosecuting the complaints. The police would secure respectable merchants and verdict of not guilty was returned. If the temperance people would aid the police, by carrying out counsel, for instance, it would be more successful. The liquor sellers also had counsel who badgered the policemen. As to the work of the police, Commissioner Jordan said he had no force for the city, and the police had many duties besides looking after the liquor sellers. One way for the temperance people to succeed would be to get the bottles of wine in the section districts, if they found liquor sellers disobeying the law they should report to the police, or enter a protest against the removal of the law. There would then be a fight. In this way hundreds of places could be closed without force or parade.
